Cartridge Cloth

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN Director

anesville Dally Gazette Informa-tion Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Washington, July 2.—Would you like to relieve Uncle Sam of a bit of his surplus war material by the purchase of 10 or 15 million yards of silk, from which bibs and tuckers and other articles of wearing apparel may be made?

If so, the present is your hour of opportunity. The war department has 17 million yards of this sort of cloth for sale. It is in liberal widths which run from 36 to 72 inches. Three or four yards should be enough to make a dress, and there is, therefore, a sufficient yardage to make suits for four or five million paople. The government will receive your bid tomorrow. This stupendous quantity of silk is known as cartridge cloth, which nomenclature indicates that it is a war material. It is cached at Pleatinny article. It is cached at Pleatinny article. It is cached at Pleatinny article. To Be Fad in Dress

It is not a matter of general information that the United States used these stupendous quantities of cartridge cloth. It is probably not true that many people have no idea of what cartridge cloth is. It is probably true, however, that they will know cartridge cloth within the next year because it is prophesied that it will be the fad in dress matterials for the coming season.

Cartridge cloth, as a matter of act.

randow cartridge cloth within the next year because it is prophesied that it will be the fad in dross materials for the coming season.

Cartridge cloth, as a matter of fact, seems to have little to do with cartridges. It is instead a wearing apparel for smokeless powder that went into the reach of any big gun in France during the recent unpleasantness was clad in cartridge cloth made of silk.

There is a neat scientific problem in the operation of big guns that make in the operation of big guns that make in the operation of big guns that make is in necessary that powder should be incased in silk. Smokeless powder should be incased in silk. Smokeless powder worked-out products of science. It is made of incomplete combustion and intrate, so delicately balanced that when it is consumed by which it is made in incomplete combustion and was the residue of twen characteristic product too refined for any such waste.

Powder Comes in Grains

Another fact which is quite novel to the uninitiated is the fact that his smokeless powder comes in grains that range in size from a fragment of marked as powder, the grain of which is about as big as a lead ponell and one inch long. A 14 inch gun would use a smokeless powder, the grain of which is about as big as a lead ponell and one inch long. A 14 inch gun would use a smokeless powder, the grain of which is about as big as a lead ponell and one inch long. A 14 inch gun would use a smokeless powder depends upon the size of these grains. Big guns fequires a slower explosion than small ones.

But whatever size they are, the combustion of very particle that enters into them is conplete. Now the realization of severy particle that enters into them is conplete. Now the realization of the powder must jeep under the confidence of the sample of the product of the grain of which is about as big as a

But whatever size they are, the combustion of every particle that enters into them is complete. Now the reason that this powder must be put in silk bags instead of cotton or dinen, or bags of any other material, is because the silk bags will be completely burned up in the explosion of the powder and nothing at all will be left, while this would not be true of any other cloth. When we came to make war on a stupendous scale it was necessary that we should have great quantities of silk from which to make powder bags.

quantities of silk from which to make powder bags.

Let Big Contract

During the war we asked for contracts on a large scale from all manufacturers of silk in the United States, and in addition let extensive contracts in Japan and China. Big mills under a number of flags were turning out silk for this war use when peace came. The left-over silk from these sources amounted to the 17 million yards which is now to be sold.

When the director of sales found yards which is now to be sold.

When the director of sales found himself in possession of all this cartridge cloth and was told that it was sille, he was inclined to be skeptical.

To the accomplishment of the stupenduous program which faces education and educators of America today, the forces of education must be reorganized, from the rural school to the university. The methods of such organization formed the subjects of Tuesday night's discussion, embodying the idea of presenting to our democracy the concerted, unified and improved efforts of all the institutions of learning in the country.

That the outstanding business of the association this year consists of its own reorganization and that a demonstration in favor of the delegate plan of representation instead of the present open meeting plan will take place before the end of the convention, was predicted by William B. Owen, president of the Chicago Normal college, who outlined the principles underlying the proposed changes of organization.

Mr. Owen, making a plea for a complete reorganization of the National Educational Association declared that the twenty five year old charter was now obsolete.

cloth. It reported back that this interest was pure silk.

Made of Unrofined Silk

An invostigation revealed the fact that this silk was made of the mulberry tree. The silk had not had the customary refining and was coarser and rougher than most cloths. It still contained the oil which usually is restricted out of it.

An investigation for the multiple of the process of machinery developed to cut a half dozen yards here and there and retail material to its individual citizens. The individual citizens is to refine the cloth in a satisfactory way at any rate. Therefore, the government hopes to sell this material to the big maufacturers of materials made of silk. There is no question but what these manufacturers will acquire great quantities of cartridge cloth, and there is little question but what it will find its way into those materials which will be on sale in dry goods stores throughout the land in the near future. So it may happen that you and I and the neighbors will be wearing cartridge cloth clothes next year.

The problem of the disposal of this material is typical of those which face the war department every day. The range of the left-over residue of war is beyond the imagination to conceive. Often it would seem advisable to sell direct to the people but this would require an organization that seem advisable to call into being for the short time it might be used. To be sure there is two billion dollars worth of this material. Every main worth of this material is to the people but this are fully up to past levels or higher. "The labor situation noted by thoughtful observers is the fact that clerks and office employes as well as other workers receiving more or less fixed incomes, have not yet participated in the advance in wages. Improvement for these classes of workers will be necessary if prices are to continue at their present level, but will, of course, add coljrespondingly to the cost of business to the government.

"Returning, soldiers are being rapidly and steadily absorbed into business, and the problem which for a time seemed to threaten in this connection is now apparently minimized in all directions. From the farming districts particularly comes the report that the supply of labor is scanty and likely to prove more so as business progressos."

EVANSVILLE WILL CELEBRATE FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Evansville, July 2.—Some two or three weeks ago a movement was started in Evansville to plan for a celebration of the Fourth of July and a fitting celebration for the return of all men in the vicinity who have been in their country's service. As it was originally planned both celebrations were to be held on July 4. Mayor Libby appointed temporarily a citizen to see about arrangements and called for a meeting of the citizens at the city hall a few nights later. This meeting was attended by six people—four returned soldiers and two civilians. Consequently all thoughts of celebrating the Fourth ended immediately, as the time was too short to plan for another mass meeting of citizens. But a storm of protest immediately arose that Evansville as a city did not plan a celebration for the return of her service men. Accordingly Mayor Libby Issued a proclamation for a meeting of citizens at the city hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Quite, a gathering responded. At the meeting, the mayor stated that the first plan for a loint celebration on the Fourth had fallen flat, because it was not deemed advisable to combine the celebrations and because the time was too short to make proper arrange-

The Most Welcome Tire That Ever Came to Market

Men Who Appreciate Superlative Values Prefer The Brunswick

In every great tire factory, the chief question is: "How much can we give for the money?" And the product depends on the policy

Every man who has become acquainted with Brunswick Tires knows that Brunswick standards are again evident. This famous concern-noted as a leader in every line it entered since 1845 - has once more proved that its policy is right.

A perfect tire is simply a matter of knowledge and standards and skill. No secrets nor patents prevent making an ideal tire.

But standards come first. For in tire making there is vast room for skimping, for subtle economies, for hidden shortcomings. Makers without the highest standards don't build high-grade tires.

The Brunswick organization of tire makers includes a brilliant staff of technical experts. Not a man among them has spent less than 20 years in handling rubber. Each is a master of his craft.

And the new ideas they bring to the attention of Brunswick directors receive sincere consideration.

Every proved betterment is adopted unanimously: The Brunswick Tire is a combination of acknowledged features plus Brunswick standards of manufacture. The result is a super-tire, the like of which you have never known before. The kind of a tire you will gladly join in welcoming.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Try ONE Brunswick. We promise a surprise. And we feel certain that you will want ALL Bruns-

This of all years should see Independence day celebrated in a safe and sane manner. It is the first since the end of the war and patriotism and not noise should be the excuse for demonstration. The riot of noise, death, fire and destruction which have marked the celebration of the day should be missing this year. We have had enough of powder-burnings, bombs, etc., to last us for a long time. They were discontinued durling the war and now is a good time to cut loose from them forever.

There is another important reason why we should have a sane Fourth. Word has been passed out that the Reds are planning to do some bombing on that day. With, the general noise and confusion of former Fourths it would make the work of destruction by the anarchists easy. If the use of pistols and other explosives was forbidden entirely on that day any bomb-throwing could be more easily detected.

T. R. Weddell secretary of the fire protection committee, in discussing the matter has to say:

"The same Fourth movement has made remarkable progress in the past made remarkable progress in the past few years, and this year should see the end of the old absurdity of cele-brating the nation's birthday with pis-tols and crackers, with their inevitatois and crackers, with their inevitable accompaniment of rading ambulances and clanging fire engines. The deaths from Fourth of July casualties, which were 166 in 1903, had been reduced by 1918 to 20, while the injuries which were 1923 in the first year. ies, which were 2,933 in the first year, ies, which were 2,333 in the first year, fel! last year to 550. Formerly the firemen expected to be kept on the jump all day on the Fourth, but for several years, in Chicago, and many other cities where fireworks have been prohibited, the number of alarms has actually here helow the daily averactually been below the daily aver-

"With this record it should hardly need the recommendation of the state councils of defence and the fire marshals to secure municipal orders and individual co-operation against the use of explosives on the Fourth. The United States has burned powder enough recently without wasting any states for the control of the control enough recently without wasting any of it on Independence day. Its list of dead and wounded in the cause of liberty is long enough without adding to it in an antiquated and absurd observance of the Fourth of July."

just deposed Premier Orlando because of his refusal to break with Great Britalian and France.

Despite the fate of Orlando, Nitti has appointed a cabinet that subscribes to the same policles that made Olando and Sonnino unpopular. Tittoni, the new minister of foreign affairs, is particularly friendly to Great Britain and France.

Premier Nitti is a professor of finance at the University of Naples and is widely known on the continent of Europe as an authority on industrial and financial topics. The great irrigation works of Italy and the electrification of her waterfalis are in a measure due to his political initiative. His foreign policy, as expressed at Paris two years ago when he was a member of the Italian mission at the French capital, was based on the principle that "the friendship of England, France and the United States is the most valuable asset for Italy's future," and since then, of more value than acres of grottoes on the Adriatic.

In addition to being Premier, Signor Nitti holds also the portfolio of the interior in the new government, for the holder of it appoints the local prefects, or state governors, and supervises elections.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

The John Emerson-Anita Loos pictures which have been popular wherever pictures are shown, have now become a family affair because Miss Loos decided to join the rank and file of June brides and she decided that John would make a nice groom. Anita Loos, who is a very young woman, was married in her early youth. She lived with her husband three days and it has taken her three years to untangle her matrimonial alliance with him. And when she finally won her freedom she declared she would never, never marry again. But you can not always stay the hand of that little fellow called Cupfd, and before she realized it she had consented to marry her co-worker.

And now we are wondering if the Emerson-Loos combination will be to the screen what the Hattons are to the stage. The Hattons, who are a hap-

John Emerson is a native of Sandusky, Ohio. He met Miss Loos in her native California and the two signed a contract to work togother. Their last contract to work togother. Their last contract to "love, honor and obey" was made at the country estate of Norma Talmadge and her husband, Joseph Schenck. The Schencks gave a wedding breakfast and all the trimmings that go with a regular matrimonial union to the happy couple.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man over a year. He was not divorced from his first wife when I began going with him, but had applied for a divorce. I did not know he was married until I had gone with him over three months, but in that time I had learned to love him. Then some girl told me about his being married.

I did not quit him, because I thought couldn't live without him. Should have to take her with us. She knew she was not wanted. We took her, though. There was just one thing about Mustaphus Snipe different from other men. That is, he spent all his time in between meals in the movies.

One day, Snipe suddenly decided to travel. Later, when questioned, his butler said that Snipe was taking about what sorts of wine to serve for dinner, when he suddenly shut the magazine he was reading, jumped up and announced his intention of taking the next steamer for Europe.
Gossip was rife. His friends at the club questioned each other and him, when he arrived to say "good-bye."

"Where are you going?" asked Woodby Wizer.

"To Morocco," answered Snipe and no matter how many drinks they treated him to, he wouldn't give out any other information.

"Going in the leather bushess?"

"Been offered a job as Sultan?"

Snipe left that evening for Morocco and they never found out why he went nor did they ever hear of him after.
(Note: One other thing. The butler who gave the information about the magazine, also informed Snipe's riends, that the place Snipe as tenents, that the place Snipe has tenents, that the place Snipe has gave in a movie theatre never costs clue was there left behind.)

It is a pro-verb of Cherry Blossom Land that beauty of face and fig-ure depend on womanly health.

What is it that makes our American women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark cireyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime? Women suf-

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a regetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely regetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, or bearing-down, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. I sprang toward her; but she was too quick for me, and laughingly vanished through an opening in the trees. I was not to kiss her that day.

Calypso was so long coming back that I began to grow anxious—was, in-deed, on the point of going down into the town in search of her, when she suddenly appeared, rather out of breath and evidently a little excitedas though, in fact, she had been running away from something. She caught me by the arm with a laugh. "Do you want to see your friend Tobias?" she said.

"Tobias? Impossible!" "Come here," and she led me a yard or two back the way she had come, and then looked through the trees.

"Gone!" she said, "but he was there a minute or two ago-or at least someone that is his photograph-and of course he's there yet, hidden in the brush, and probably got his eyes on us all the time. Dld you see that seven-year apple tree move?"

"His favorite tree," I laughed. "Hardly strong enough to hang him on, though." And I realized that she was King Alchous' daughter. We crouched lower for a moment or wo but the seven-year apple tree dld'nt move again, and we agreed that there was no use in waiting for "A person?" I interrupted.

"Yes! Suppose we say 'a pock-marked person;' was it you?" "What a memory you have for details," I parried; "and then?"

"Well! I took my change and managed to whisper a word to Sweeneya good friend, remember-and came out. I took a short cut back, but the 'person' that had stood in the back of the store seemed to know the way almost better than I-so well that he got ahead of me. He was walking quietly this way and so slowly that I had at last to overtake him. He said noth ing, just watched me as if interested in the way I was going-but, I'm ashamed to say, he rather frightened e! And here I am."
"Well, then," T said, "let's hurry home and talk it over with the 'king.' The "king," as I had renlized, was a practical "romantie" and at once took the matter seriously, leavingas might have surprised some of those who had only heard him talk his con-

"Quite true, my dear," he answered but isn't a fairy tale worth paying for?-worth a little trouble? And remember, if you will allow me, two things about fairy tales: there must always be some cyll fairy in them, some dragon or such like; and there is always-a happy ending. Now the dragon enters at last-in the form of Tobias; and we should be happy on that very account. It shows that the race of dragons is not, as I feared, extinct. And as for the happy ending, we will arrange it, after lunch-for which, by the way, you are somewhat

For the moment we must suspend operations on our Golconda"—his name for the rular that we were to excavate—"and, as our present purpose—yours no less, than ours, friend Ulysses—is to confuse Tobias, my suggestion is this: that you walk with me a mile or two to the nor and. There is an entertaining mangrove swamp I should like to show you, and also you can give me your opinion of an idea of mine that you will understand all the better when I have taken you over the struckers had shot the snake and the will duck—that only Charlie could have seen any difference.

CHANDLER SIX $179

The Fact of he Matter

JOU can see for yourself that the Chandler is the most closely priced fine car in the whole American market.

Printer's ink lends itself to the presentation of claims and facts alike. We make it our purpose, in speaking of the Chandler, to deal with facts only.

And this we believe to be the fact, that no other automobile, built so well, built of such good materials, built in such good design, is priced within hundreds of dollars of the Chandler price.

The Chandler motor is truly a great motor. There is none better. Fifty thousand Chandler owners know it. And countless thousands of their friends and neighbors know it. Now in its seventh year of constant development, without radical change of design, it approximates perfection.

The whole Chandler chassis, simple and sturdy, is dependable and enduring. And Chandler bodies, graceful in line, roomy and comfortable, luxuriously upholstered and beautifully finished, are suggestive of the best custom work.

The New Series Touring Car

will delight you and your family. It is big and handsome, seats seven grown persons without crowding, and will take you anywhere in comfort.

The Chandler is fast when you want speed. It is flexible and instantly responsive in crowded traffic. It is powerful on steep grades.

LARD SENTIMENT INCREASING IN C

(By KID BIFF.)

The outstanding feature of a canvass of local fistic fans today as to the outcome of the Willard-Dempsey heavyweight championship fight at Toledo, Friday afternoon, July 4, reveals a change of heart from Dempsey to Willard. Where three weeks ago it was almost impossible to find Willard supporters, eleventh hour investigations result in the finding of plenty of them.

Sentiment seems to be about 50-50 around town. Dempsey still rules a favorite in the majority of sport headquarters and all Willard money is covered as soon as it appears. Most of the betting is even, although 5 to 4 odds on Dempsey have been reported. Interest in the bout is running high. It is the most talked-of subject in local sporting circles.

Some of the opinions given around today are published below to give an idea of who will win the light. Use your own judgment.

Victor Hemming: "I've been watching Willard pretty carefully and think there is no question but what he will win. The first will go the full 12 rounds."

James F. McCue: "Any man's crazy who will ber on Willard. I'm a Dempsey man first, last and all the time. Jess doesn't stand a show unless he gets a lucky blow. He's too old."

"Doc Hartman: "I'm betting on Willard, but I'm afraid Dempsey is less he gets a lucky blow. He's too old."

"Doc Hartman: "I'm betting on Willard but I'm afraid Dempsey is going to win."

Richard Saxby: "Dempsey will win by a knockout within six rounds. I'm betting $40.000 on it."

Al. Grobe: "There will be no knockout. Willard will win easy."

Rhody Wilson: "It's all set as far as I'm concerned. Dempsey will cop atthough I'm not looking for a knock-out."

out."
William Langdon: "Nothing to it but Dempsey all the way."
Joseph Denning: "I am willing to wager my small pile on Dempsey's wager my small pile on Dempsey's chances."

Frank Kennedy: "The fighting Irishman is bound to make Willard kiss the mat in less than 12 rounds."
James A. Murphy: "I am looking for Dempsey to win within six to eight rounds. Dempsey may be a small guy, but you'll find him cracking Willard in the jaw all the time."
Joseph Delaney: "I'm a Dempsey man."

Joseph Delaney: "I'm a Dempsey man."
James Worthington: "Don't bother me: I'm getting married today."
Howard Clithero: "Jack Dempsey is a sure winner because Mickey told me so."
Earl Fuzzell: "I suppose Willard will win, but I would like to see Dempsey grab the title. Dempsey has more nerve than anything else. I'd face Willard myself for $27,000."
Bob' Flockett: "I don't think Dempsey stands a show. If he had done his training on my farm there might be some chance for him."
Max Melsel: "Dempsey won't last more than eight or nine rounds."
William Kober: "Little men are good fighters, but Dempsey is too small for Willard."
Peter Myers: "I guess it's Willard's fight."

From records past and present the Australasians seem to have the most able and experienced players. Brookes, despite the fact that he is approaching 5 years of age, is to lead the team. Those who have witness his performance against McLoughlin and Williams in 1914 can easily understand why he is regarded as probably the greatest player in the world. During the war Brookes played in Red Cross matches in India and Egypt and seemed, according to reports, to be playing up to his highest standards. Along with Brookes there is the selection of three other members of the team to be chosen from among such able men as Gerald Fatterson.

Old Scout Taken III.

La Crosse—Col. King Stanley, an old-time plainsman and chief of scouts with Buffalo Bill in the old days on the border, was taken ill here Wednesday on his way across the continent in an automoble. An abscess in one ear drove the veteran to a hospital, where a doctor put him to bed. The old scout claims to be the men who led the French troops into Pekin, China, during the Boxer revolution.

Marinette—The industrial commission will be called upon to hear a unique action in a short time. Herman Schelk has begun an action against the town of Stephenson for compensation. While he was engaged in road work he was shot in the eye by a hunter. He lost the sight of the eye. The town board, claims that it has no liability in the matter because the shooting was entirely accidental. Loses Eye, Wants Pay.

Well, it was from Prince Charles—now King Charles—In the letter the king told how he had been offered the throne by his faithful followers a few days after Captain Brave had rescued him from the attack of his enemies. In fact the attack on his life was a final effort on the part of his enemies to kill him, as they knew at that time that nothing could prevent his men from placing him in power.

So, now King Charles and his wife, Gueen May, had come into their own agaln. He was back in the big castle in his own kingdom and Queen May, with whom the children had fallen his ove on their visit to the Azores, was wearing the queenly robes she had told the children so much about.

He ended his letter by telling Captain Brave had no such intention. He turned to Ladydear and asked her if they had provisions enough to start immediately, and; she said yes. Jeanne was very quitet and very sad, for she felt that the departure of her friends for the other country meant that she would be left behind. Ladydear made hor very happy when she said, "I will slip out with Jeanne a minute and see if I can buy a few clothes for her before the village stores close" Jack and Jane were slad that Jeanne was going along. Back in Make-Believe town they had always wanted a playmate and Jeanne already seemed just like a sister to them.
